MEMORANDUM FOR: Legislative Counsel

FROM: Herbert E. Hetu
Director of Public Affairs

SUBJECT: Call Referred to my Office from Senator Baker's AA

1. I received a telephone call this afternoon from Stanley Stillman, who said he had been in Senator Baker's office this morning and Jim Cannon, Baker's AA, suggested he call me. Stillman stated that he had worked for Time magazine in the past and was now putting out a publication called "Access." He said "Access" was a daily compilation of intelligence-like information gleaned from open sources.

2. Stillman said he would very much like to see a copy or copies of the National Intelligence Daily to examine our format, graphics, typeface, etc. He said he was not interested in the information per se but merely in the subtleties of the presentation. I explained the reasons why we could not assist him and further told him that we had little interest in having an unclassified publication look like the NID. I also told him that our publications people had recently visited a number of news magazines to observe their procedures and format, i.e., we don't do things any differently print-wise than commercial magazines.

3. Stillman was disappointed but not nasty. He asked if I thought a request from Cannon's office would pave the way for a one-time exception. I told Stillman I didn't think that would make any difference. However, Stillman indicated that he might still go that route so you might expect a phone call.
